

The 10 Best Beach Resorts for Families

Parents' exclusive survey reveals where you can get awesome ocean views, nonstop family activities, and comfy rooms—all at a price that won't leave you feeling burned...

8 Ocean Edge Resort & Spa, Brewster, MA

Even the prices seem a bit nostalgic here on Cape Cod: starting at $205 for a one-bedroom villa with a full kitchen in May and about $100 more in June and July, when old-fashioned family activities kick into high gear. There are scavenger hunts, beach fires with s'mores, baseball and soccer on the front lawn—all at no charge. On weekdays, kids can do cool craft projects, like making kites and tie-dyeing shirts, for just $10 a head.

Two of this resort's lifeguard-staffed outdoor pools are ideal for young children—as is the beach, with water that tends to be a little warmer and milder than on the other side of the Cape. And if the weather doesn't cooperate, the resort is the only property on our ten-best list that has an indoor pool; in fact it's got two of them. Reservations: 800-343-6074, oceanedge.com.
